Scene 1

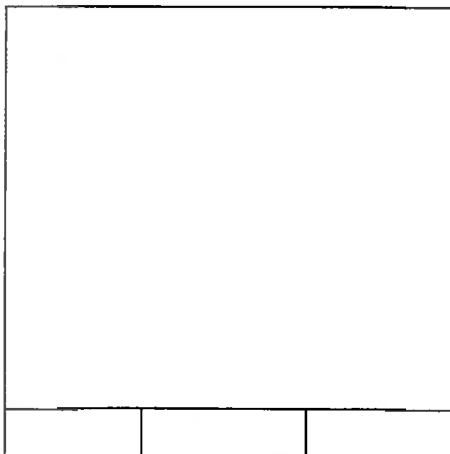

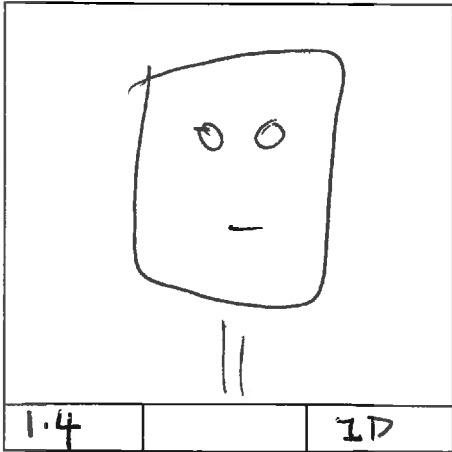

FUNERAL PARLOUR
Bell meets dodgy funeral director
in closed stuffy room.

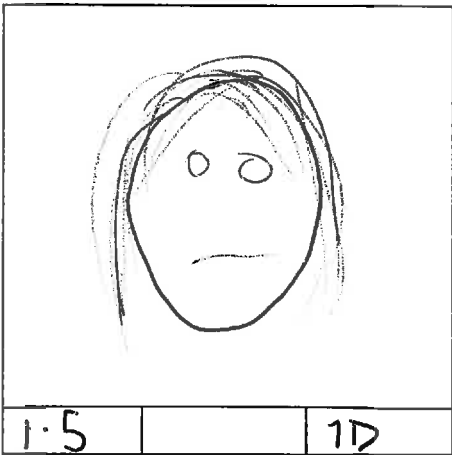

1.3 DODGY DIRECTOR
[STARE] Bell. It's a difficult time for all of us when we lose a loved one.
[STARE] we both cared deeply about your mother. She'll be sincerely missed here
at Dodgy Funderal Direct. Bell

1.5 BELL
 mum was deeply in touch with nature and <sup>MUMS</sup> ~~the environment~~ and wanted to be buried under a lemon tree on a friend's paddock near a river
 On a friend's property near a river, under a lemon tree

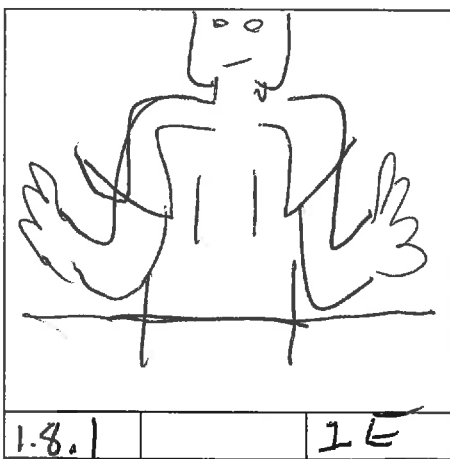

1.6 DODGY DIRECTOR
 What an original and thoughtful way to go. [Sarcastic] [LEANS FORWARD] Bell.
 Have you considered burial? Bell.

At Darkwood Park Cemetery
there are 100s of acres of green grass just like the (like a paddock) of exquisitely kept gardens [I smelt citrus today) and water features (that sound of a river).

1.9 BELL
Why? We are in drought.
*option*
Mum told me at 6 foot under there is no
oxygen and the body doesn't decompose.
This means no nutrients are given back to the earth. ~~Oh~~ and the body ~~can~~ mummify when embalmed

$5000? I don't have $5000. I have ~~nothing and you know how much~~

was expensive.

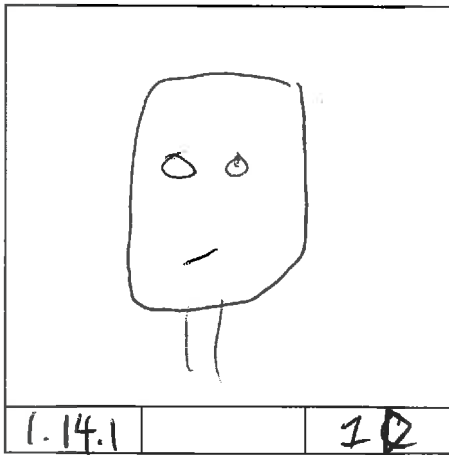

~~DODGY DIRECTOR
Of course your family could contrib-

~~BELL
There is no other family. Besides,

AT ONLY $2000

1.15. BELL

Mum says cremating uses large amounts of gas, releases huge amounts of carbon and the ash isn't actually ash. [Fact or Fict] Its bones that have been grounded using giant Milne balls that crush and crunch till all you have are tiny bone fragments

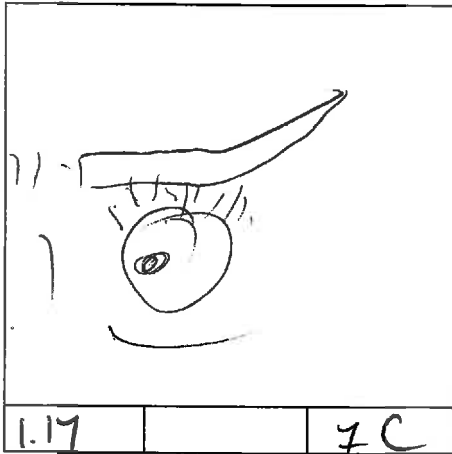

1.16 DODGY DIRECTOR

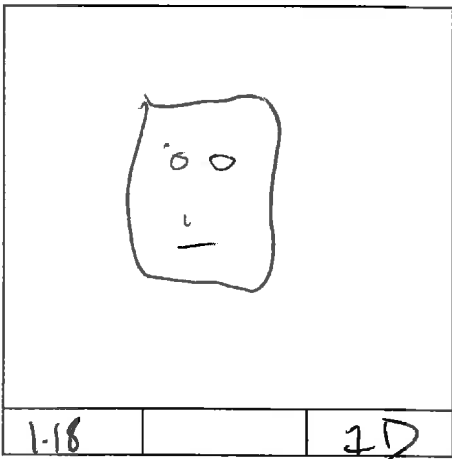

~~[SOUND] [SOUND]~~ Well partly true but

unfortunately these are your only two choices. BELL [SMIRK

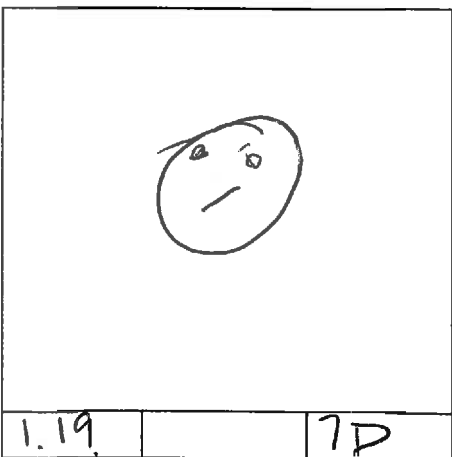

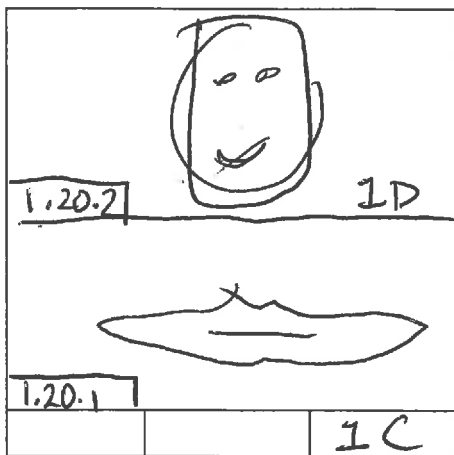

1.17 BELL
[RAISE EYE BROW

1.18 DODGY DIRECTOR
We can organise cremation with no service for $2500.

1.19 BELL
I've told you there is no money to pay
this and it's not what Mum wanted

1,20

DODGY DIRECTOR

[MATCHING BELLS TONE] Bell. I can totally understand your position.

[LOWERING TONE] We can sort this out.

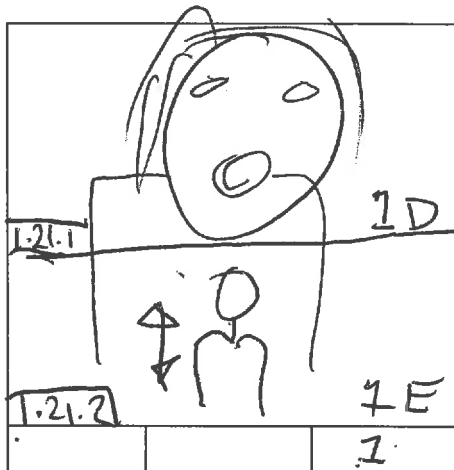

We both want the best for your mother

Think her paddock, the suns out and birds flutter and the rivers runs softly in the back ground. Can you feel how Granddad would feel? We can make this happen after we cremate.

[HAND REACHS AND COVERS BELLS HAND] I can waive the fee if you do something for me

[SMUG SNORT] It has never been done and

It may never have been done but it is legal. Section 3.2.2 of the Territory deaths and burial act state if conditions 4.5.6, 6.3 and 7.1.2 are met then a member of the public can transport a body to a private burial site.
